READING

Read the text „The Mozart Effect“ and then do the exercises

1. _____

Some people believe that music is much more than entertainment. Don Campbell, for example, is an expert on The Mozart Effect and he says that all kinds of music, from Mozart to jazz, from Latin to rock, can affect our learning and our health. We all use music to help us relax after a busy day at work. However, Campbell argues that music can also reduce the stress of being ill, especially by reducing pain, and the director of Baltimore Hospital says that thirty minutes of classical music has the same effect as ten milligrams of the painkiller Valium.

2. _____

Campbell also believes that music can help you concentrate, but that you need the right kind of music for your mood. And you need to listen for about ten minutes before you start studying. Perhaps your mind needs relaxing or maybe you are tired and you want to feel more energetic – so you should choose the appropriate music to help you. He says that you can use many different kinds of music to help you concentrate, but that Mozart’s music is popular because it is very organised and it makes your brain more alert and imaginative.

3. _____

Music not only makes you more intelligent, but it can improve your memory, too. In one study, students who listened to Mozart before doing a test got much higher marks than those who didn’t. Many studies also show that children who learn to play a musical instrument before the age of twelve have better memories for the rest of their lives.

a) Write the correct letter (a, b or c) on the corresponding blank line (1-3)

- a) The right music to study better
- b) Music for stress and pain
- c) Get a better score and remember more

b) Write T (true), F (false) or NG (not given) for the following sentences

1. Don Campbell loves Mozart’s music. _____
